Rules & Rankings...

USTSA Rules of Play are in effect.

USTSA -> Canadian rankings are not the same. We have very few Canadian players that currently play USTSA sanctioned events and therefore the USTSA point system is not very meaningful in Canada at the moment.

For Canadian tournaments, we have been dividing the field up into categories based on demonstrated skill. Most of the Canadian players that will be playing as "Pro's" at the COFC would be considered Rookies based on USTSA points.

For the purpose of the 2004 COFC, we will use the following conversion chart for non-Canadian USTSA ranked players that are unknown to us.

USTSA Points		COFC Rank
0 - 950	=	Rookie
951 - 1300	=	Semi-Pro
> 1300	=	Pro

Ultimately, player rankings are at the discretion of the Tournament Director and are subject to change.

Recalls ...

For all matches throughout the tournament – If your opponent has not shown up at the table within 5 minutes of the match being called, you must report it to the control desk. If they have not reported to the stage within 5 minutes of the recall, they will have lost their first game. If they have still not reported to the stage after an additional 5 minutes, they forfeit the match.

This recall procedure will be strictly enforced for all matches – NO EXCEPTIONS.
